*EXTERNAL TO GT***

John,

We sent an email to Brent on Friday asking for a call on Monday or Tuesday of this coming week. Please advise who should be our primary contact with respect to this matter. As to your correspondence below, it is unreasonable to send an email after close of business on Friday regarding a matter of significance and demand a response before start of business on Monday. In any event, we are not interested in arbitrating our claims against Wright at this time. If you would like us to seriously consider whether to do so, or whether it may be appropriate to arbitrate any counterclaims you may bring, you will have to articulate those counterclaims so we can consider. We ask that you also explain the reason for the emergency demand.

Best regards,

Desirée

Subject: [Time Sensitive Reply Requested] Blockchain Game Partners, Your Client Eric Schiermeyer

Dear Ms. Moore:

While we appreciate that you have been getting up to speed over the past week, we would like to establish more timely communication so that we may discuss the number of pressing issues related to the corporate governance of Blockchain Game Partners, Inc. ("BGP").

Accordingly, we request your prompt reply to this email. By no later than 7:00 am MT on Monday, June 5, 2023, please advise us if your client is agreeable to a binding arbitration proceeding to resolve any and all matters of dispute and disagreement between Mr. Wright Thurston and Mr. Eric Schiermeyer as the only two directors of BGP. We propose that the arbitration be held in Salt Lake City, or another reasonable venue. In proposing binding arbitration, it is Mr. Thurston's desire to keep the dispute proceedings private and confidential as opposed to open proceedings in state or federal court.

Please appreciate the urgency of the situation from our perspective, and our strong desire to resolve the various issues privately. I look forward to receiving your response by 7:00 am MT on Monday.

Sincerely,

John W. Huber
